New normality - „Be the change you wish to see in the world.

“ M. Ghandi

Together, we want to stand up for diversity and its richness for all of us and have a great time that will be remembered. To this end, we have put together an entertainment program with something for everyone.

Artists from the Ruhr region will bring a variety of different musical and vocal performances to the stage for you. Charming, funny improvisational theater actors invite you to join in. Artists will enliven the Thealozzi stage in the courtyard with poetry on topics that have moved us all at one time or another. There will also be entertainment for children. They can enjoy an inclusive puppet theater duo. With various puppets and lively stories from everyday life, the artists will bring the topic of diversity closer to the kids in an entertaining way. If they feel like it, they can have their face painted and then watch two music video presentations that children and seniors have created in Thealozzi workshops on the topic of diversity.

The festival offers not only entertainment, but also the opportunity to make new contacts or gain valuable inspiration and new perspectives. The Thealozzi team has also thought about your physical well-being with various delicacies at low prices. Now all that's missing is you.

Admission is free so that many people can enjoy cultural participation with us. We ask you for reservations in advance so that we can plan better.

Informations for people with disabilities (e.g. wheelchair users):

The tiny festival in the courtyard of the house is barrier-free. The house itself is constantly working on removing structural barriers. A ramp leads to the side entrance on the first floor. The doors open automatically via sensors. There is a barrier-free toilet on the right-hand side. On the other side of the building is a café with a small stage and adjoining terrace with wide doors. Wheelchairs with a width of up to 80cm (including the distance between the wheels) can get there via the side entrance, through the narrower dance room entrance and via the main corridor.

For more informations about the program, please visit our website www.thealozzi.de from 06th of February or call us: 0234-17590
